

HARDING DELIVERS ADDRESS AT POWICK

Talks on 'Service' at Dedication of Tablet to War Heroes

LARGELY ATTENDED

President Introduced by Representative Moore Who Makes Speech—Sermon by Rev. E. W. Wellchamps

President Warren G. Harding yesterday morning delivered the dedication address at the dedication of a bronze tablet in historic Powick Church, and he took as his topic, "Service." The President declared that one of the greatest services in life is to determine just what is right. The tablet he said is not for the men whose names are inscribed thereon, but is for service, adding, "I am rather inclined to believe you have given expression to a sentiment that is universal throughout the country."

In opening his remarks, President Harding said: "I do not know that I am more susceptible to emotions than others, but I cannot escape a strange feeling that I have sat in a pew occupied by the revered Father of our country. The chief executive exhorted the parishioners to continue the firm foundation given them by the founders of the republic."

The President illustrated service by telling a story of passing down the river on the Mayflower and when passing Mount Vernon of how the men stood at attention and saluted and the band struck up the "Star-Spangled Banner." It is he declared an example of service which is the greatest thing in life.

President Harding said, "I come from Ohio, and passing over the struggle between the north and south, he declared there is no longer any suggestion of conflict since we unsheathed the sword in Cuba for civilization and humanity. We are all 100 per cent American from this time said President Harding."

Referring to the children, the President said: "I cannot look these children in the face without thinking which is the son of a capitalist, and which the son of a workman. You are all sons and daughters of America and no line of class divides you. I wonder which of you may be presidents and heads of state departments."

America, he asserted, is to preserve the rights in that service rendered not only to God, but to the world, and he urged all to go forth resolved to preserve the constitution of the United States.

Immediately after his address, President Harding and wife reviewed the school children as they marched through the church, it being through the efforts of the children that the memorial tablet was erected. Afterward the President and Mrs. Harding stood beside the Washington pew and gave a hearty handshake to every little child present. It was a great sight and the little ones appeared greatly impressed with the honor of shaking the hand of the chief executive following the school children, President and Mrs. Harding held a reception in the church for all others and many who were unable to gain admission to the church service came forward and shook his hand.

The tablet is erected on the north wall of the church beside the pulpit and is a neat bronze affair. It contains the names of six young men of that section of Fairfax who made the supreme sacrifice during the world war.

Their names follow: Lieut. Arthur Elmore, Corporal John Russell Mitchell, Clarence Dawson, William Isaac Deardorf, J. Percy Jennings Dove, Raymond Rogers.

As President Harding shook the hands of the little ones as they moved rapidly past, he cradled in his arm little Rosa Lee Dove, three years old daughter of the late Percy Jennings Dove, one of the men whose names are inscribed on the tablet, and kissed her.

The tablet was draped with a handsome silk flag placed in the church by Mrs. Lewis Hurlie, of Gunston Hall, as a memorial to her mother.

Selections were given by the band from Camp Humphreys, the band being outside of the church, and music by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Edward Gibson.

Representative E. Walton Moore introduced President Harding.

Mr. Moore referring to the young men whose names are on the tablet, said they entered a great achievement which they had never dreamed of. Continuing Mr. Moore said: "Their experience we do not know. All we know is that they dared, suffered and died—they died for their country, civilization and us. We pity the necessity of the costly sacrifice that involved them. If there is any nobler duty, it is for each to do all in his power to save the world in the future from such a tragedy."

Continuing Mr. Moore said, that it is fitting that the tablet should be placed in this church with which all are so familiar. The old church he said has fine historic memories. It will be declared, never be forgotten, that the successors of Washington came here to take part in the exercises.

Prior to the dedication services, Rev. E. W. Wellchamps, rector of the church, preached an able sermon which was listened to with close attention by the big congregation that filled the church. His topic was, "Waiting for Right."

President Harding and party which included Mrs. Harding, Brig. Gen. Charles E. Sawyer and George B. Christian, Jr., President Harding's secretary, arrived at the church in time for the regular service which began at 11 o'clock. When he arrived the church was filled. They were immediately escorted to the pew occupied by Washington in front of the church and Representative Moore and party occupied the adjoining pew.

Long before the dedication crowds stood outside unable to gain admission, among them being many Alexandrians. It is estimated that 500 persons were in the church and fully 1,000 to gain admission.

Shortly before 1 o'clock President Harding and party left the church and they posed for the movie man and were immediately driven back to Washington.

A committee composed of Walter Moore, Albert May and E. L. Maney, from Russell Mitchell Post Veterans of Foreign War, were guests of honor at the service. The local post is named after Russell Mitchell, one of the members whose name is inscribed on the tablet.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

Fifty-four girls attended the sewing class of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., at the Chamber of Commerce Saturday afternoon. The girls have now been taking the sewing lessons as the guest of the Auxiliary eleven weeks and some wonderful progress has been made in the work.

Mrs. Grace Bernard, of the National School of Domestic Science and Art, of Washington, is the supervising instructor and she has announced that she will probably continue the work of the advanced class throughout the summer. The class has made such progress that the Auxiliary would regret to have it discontinue its work during the vacation.

Mrs. Harry B. Caton, president of the Ladies Auxiliary, has offered a Junior Chautauqua ticket to the girl making the greatest progress during the next month in the various classes. The series of lesson will be discontinued for the summer in time for the Chautauqua which begins July 11.

The gymnasium classes will be held at the Young People's Building this evening, for boys at 7 o'clock, and for ladies at 8 o'clock. This will be the ninth lesson in the series and two more lessons will conclude the work for the summer.

PAY TRIBUTE TO HONORED DEAD

Many Visit Cities of the Dead and Strew Flowers

THREATENING SKIES

Exercises at National Cemetery at 4 P. M.—Many go to Services at Arlington Cemetery.

Lowering skies, which threatened almost any minute to weep, kept many persons in the city today who had planned to spend the day out of the city. Despite this, however, large throngs visited the cities of the dead where flowers were thrown on the graves of the loved ones. The day was probably more generally observed than heretofore, and practically all business was stopped as a tribute of love and affection to the brave who have answered the last roll call.

Crosses made of evergreens today were placed on the graves of those who made the supreme sacrifice during the world war who are buried here in the cemeteries and near the city. The crosses were made by the women of the American Legion of this city.

Many from here this afternoon attended the exercises at Arlington National cemetery.

A large throng it is expected will attend the exercises at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the National cemetery this city, when an address will be delivered by W. E. Andrews of Nebraska. Invocation will be given by Rev. D. E. B. Jackson, and benediction by Rev. O. P. Lloyd. The remainder of the program heretofore published in The Gazette will be carried out. The graves of the soldiers in this cemetery were decorated with small flags and will be strewn with flowers at the conclusion of the exercises.

Hundreds of persons today visited Mount Vernon. There were many visitors here and many motor parties passed through the city. Hundreds of Alexandrians left yesterday and some early today and are spending the day at nearby resorts.

Two Merchants Arraigned And Held For Grand Jury

Antonia Lemeskany, who conducts a store on King street, arrested by policemen Magne and Durrer, in the police court today was held for the action of the grand jury for an alleged violation of the state prohibition law. The officers testified that on Saturday night they visited his place of business and recovered eleven gallons of wine and six quarts of whisky. The accused furnished a bond in the sum of $500 for his appearance before the next grand jury.

Thomas Baggett, who conducts a place of business in the southeastern part of the city, also was held for the action of the grand jury for an alleged violation of the State prohibition law.

The arrest was made by Sergeant Campbell and Policemen Durrer, Magne and Nowland. The officers testified that they found two quart bottles, one of which was partially filled with what they think is whisky, and that they also took charge of a barrel of cider and five bottles of peach extract. AIRPLANE ACCIDENT COSTS SEVEN LIVES

Giant Curtis-Eagle Army Airplane Crashes to Earth

INVESTIGATION SOON

Bodies Lie in Field All Night—Struck Storm Near Potomac Rescue Party Sent Out

Washington, May 30.—An official investigation has been ordered by the Army Air Service of the accident late yesterday near Indian Head, Md., which resulted in the death of the pilot and six passengers of the giant Curtis-Eagle army ambulance airplane. The craft was hurled to the ground and wrecked when it ran into a terrific wind and electrical storm as it was returning from Langley Field, near Newport News, Va., where it had gone to attend the aerial review.

The toll of the accident is: Former Representative Maurice Connolly, of Iowa, now sales manager of the Curtis Airplane Company and a major in the Army Reserve Corps.

A. G. Batchelder, chairman of the executive committee of the American Automobile Association.

Lieut. Stanley M. Ames, of Washington, pilot of the plane.

Lieut. Col. Archie Miller, Washington.

Lieut. Cleveland W. McDermott, Langley Field, Va.

Lieut. John M. Pennywell, Langley Field, Va.

Sergeant-Mechanic Richard Blumekranz, Washington.

The craft had just crossed the Potomac river when, about 6 o'clock it ran into a storm near Morgantown, Md., a village a short distance from Indian Head. A few minutes later, while it was flying so low as to be plainly visible, it suddenly collapsed, and almost instantly it began the swift descent which brought death to all its passengers.

The ship struck the ground nose first and the force of the impact was so great that the big 400-horsepower Liberty motor in the front end of the craft was torn from its chassis and thrown back into the cockpit on top of the pilot and the passengers. All of the bodies were badly mutilated.

Army Air Service officers said the accident was the worst in the history of aviation in the United States, either military or civil, and that it was one of the few in which all of the passengers in a falling plane had been killed almost instantly.

Details of the disaster did not reach Indian Head until hours later, but during the night a report of the trouble came to Bolling Field, from which the party started. Efforts were made to ascertain whether the report was correct, and early this morning a party, under Lieut. Paul C. Wilkins and Leroy Wolf, left Bolling Field in motor trucks to go to the rescue. In the meantime, word had reached Indian Head, and the Dolphin, lying near the Navy Proving Grounds, started for Morgantown.

The party from Bolling Field reached Morgantown about 5 o'clock this morning. The bodies of the dead men were still in the field where the airplane crashed down to earth. They had lain there all night. All appeared to have been dead several hours, and it is believed that most, if not all of them, died almost instantly. The Bolling Field rescue party put the bodies in the trucks and brought them to Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, where arrangements had been made previously to receive them.

Christian Healing

Rev. Percy F. Hall of St. Paul's, Explains Underlying Principles

Yesterday morning Rev. Percy Foster Hall, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, began his work of Christian Healing by a sermon explaining its underlying principles. A meeting will be held in Norton Memorial Hall on Tuesday night to enlist the aid of intercessors and others and to arrange for a service of prayer and healing in the near future. Yesterday morning Mr. Hall said in part:

Christian healing was brought to the notice of the church by James Moore Hickson about one year ago, depends simply upon a vital faith in God as revealed in His Son Jesus Christ. God is real, all-loving, all-powerful, all present. Among His laws is the law of prayer. Prayer is a deep mystery. In it we do not seek to change God's will, but to co-operate with God's will. It is His will that men shall be holy, clean, and kind. And yet men sin. It is His will that men shall be healthy, and yet people are sick. Sin is not His will for us, nor is sickness. God permits sickness. He does not will it because He does not will sickness we are to fight it by every means, by doctors, surgeons, medicine, sanitation, and proper self-controlled ways of living and by prayer. God will not do for us, for our bodies, our minds, or our souls, what we ought to do for ourselves. We are warned that there are dangers in this undertaking. It is true. There are dangers everywhere. The danger is great even in coming to the Holy Communion if one comes ignorantly and carelessly. Christian Healing should have the support of our wisest and sanest people, in order that dangers made be met wisely. One can not be deterred by danger. Duty not danger is our watchword. "Safety First" is a good motto for men working amid dangerous machinery, or for automobilists; it is a poor maxim for a soldier, a fireman, a Christian minister, or a Christian man or woman. In all humility and with a good courage, and with ardent faith and gratitude, this work must be undertaken, and we ask for the prayers and sympathy of all Christian people.

M. P. CHURCH

There was a goodly attendance both Sunday morning and evening in the Methodist Protestant Church. Both sermons were of great interest.

Both the senior and junior choir again did themselves credit as they do each Sunday, at the evening service Mr. Millard Padgett sweetly sang "The Home of the Soul" which was highly appreciated by all present.

The pastor wishes to announce that any child who can sing and would like to join the Junior Choir will be welcomed and doing this church a great service. He also again calls attention to the mid week prayer service and wishes as many to attend as can do so.

Lightning Causes Fire

Damage Amounting to $750 at Smoot's Yard Yesterday

Damage estimated at about $750, was done to the east end of the lumber shed at the plant of W. A. Smoot and Company, incorporated, shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when lightning struck the shed setting fire to the place.

The fire struck the roof of the shed and split a big Georgia pine stringer splitting it in two.

On the first floor of the shed nails, veer stored and paints and oils were on the second floor. The firemen prevented the fire from spreading to the lumber adjoining, the remainder of the shed being nearly 200 feet in length and filled with dressed lumber. After half an hour's work the fire was subdued.

POLICE ON TRAIL

OF WEBER SUSPECT

Hyattsville, Md., May 30.—That the mysterious slaying of Mrs. John Weber will be cleared up during the next 48 hours is the belief of Detective Sergeant Thomas Walsh of the Washington police department, who in conference with J. Wilson Ryan, state attorney of Maryland, at Riverdale, is working out a theory that the crime was committed by a former lover of Mrs. Weber.

The position of the body when found several hours after the crime and the surrounding evidence obtained has led the officers to follow this clue.

A reward of $1,000 was offered by Prince Georges county for information leading to the arrest of the slayer. The hollow-checked man, who was seen lurking in the woods at Seat Pleasant, Md., about three miles from the scene, several hours after the crime, and "North Carolina Joe" are the suspects given on the lookout issued by local authorities.

BRITISH READY TO SWEEP POLES

Six Battalions Will Move Into Territory Held by Insurgents

FOR GROSS STERLITZ

German Forces New Number 20,000—German Offensive Halted—To be Assisted by Italian And French

Oppeln, Upper Silesia, May 30.—The six battalions of British troops which have been waiting in Oppeln for the last two days are now ready to begin the task of restoring order in the territory held by the Polish insurgents.

General La Rond, the French commander in the plebiscite area wishes to split the force into a number of patrols for service in various parts of the troubled district, but the British insist on remaining as a unit under British command.

The points of penetration into the insurgent territory, Kreuzberg and Gross Sterlitz, are under the control of British officers. Presumably, therefore, the newly arrived troops will advance to Gross Sterlitz, which is surrounded by insurgents, then continue by train or motor truck to Beuthen and establish martial law as they go. The probable plan will be to move one battalion forward at a time to take possession of the territory control of which will be consolidated by those that follow.

There are in the neighborhood of Kreuzberg about 7,000 of the German Selbstschutz, most of them wearing the old field gray of their war days. Those who have no uniforms have been provided with civilian clothes of the same color which gives the irregular a soldierly appearance. The training they are getting under General Hoyer's instructions is rapidly shaping them into an effective small army.

These German forces now number 20,000 men, distributed at various parts of Upper Silesia.

Oppeln, Silesia, May 30.—Major Von Moltke, commander of the German volunteer forces in Upper Silesia, has issued instructions that there be no offensive against the Polish insurgents pending the arrival and disposition of several battalions of the Black Watch and probable additional English troops, who, it is said here, will sweep Silesia clear of rebellious Poles, from Rosenberg to Katowitz.

Present plans contemplate that the English will take the field assisted by Italian and French troops, which will garrison the towns, but will not participate in the fighting in the event the Poles offer resistance.

The first detachments of the Black Watch are expected tomorrow. They will be followed by others. Then will come a British officer of rank at least equal to that of the French General Lenoir, now in command. The British officer will direct the British operations.

Attempted Hold Up

Robert Bender, Reports Affair And Causes Arrest of Colored Man

Robert Bender, driver for a Washington bread company, reports that Saturday afternoon while going over the road to Washington at about 1:30 o'clock, a colored man acted in a suspicious manner to him indicating that he intended holding him up. Bender caused the arrest of a young colored man of this city whom he alleges is the man.

The court after hearing the case decided to hold the young man for the authorities of Arlington county. He gave the name of Ross Tyler and asserted that he could prove an alibi, saying emphatically that he was in Arlington camp Saturday.

President Harding's visit to old historic Pohick. Church yesterday in connection with the dedication of a memorial tablet to the six young men from that section of Fairfax who made the supreme sacrifice during the world war grew a national touch to the affair. The exercises throughout were simple but impressive, and the President made many warm friends as a result of his visit. The little school children, through whose efforts the tablet was erected, will never forget the President and his wife. After the exercises had been concluded the children marched through the church and were reviewed by the President, and then the President and Mrs. Harding shook the hand of each child, and that the children were pleased it is expressing it mildly. All of the little tots beamed with contentment on the honor of shaking the hand of the President and his wife. Afterward the members of the congregation and visitors also were received by the President. It was a notable day for old Pohick.

A DAILY THOUGHT

Be on the level. Loyalty is the noblest attribute of man. The man who is on the level, who does not try to undermine his superiors or to over ride his subordinates, is invincible. It is unfortunately true that, in every large organization, there are some few individuals whose minds, instead of being dynamo for the generation of the principles of co-operation, faith and loyalty, are subterranean chambers through which the bats of envy, malice and discord are continually winging their hideous way.

Such unfortunates hate the truth, envy the rightful success of industry and application, and rage at the rewards bestowed upon loyalty and courage.

When Hercules dragged the three-headed serpent tailed Cerberus from the underworld, the bright light of day seemed to madden him. He foamed at the mouth and wherever the foam fell there grew evil weeds, so poisonous that all who ate thereof died.

The vicious serpent tail of Cerberus continually bit Hercules, but he was proof against his poison. You will be proof against the venom of hatred and envy if you pursue your way protected by truth, loyalty and courage.

FOURTEEN HURT AU AUTO HURLS PLANE INTO BOX

Milwaukee, Wis., May 30.—Fourteen spectators at the automobile races at the state fair park were injured, one critically, late yesterday when an airplane taking part in Al Wilson's "hare devil" stunt, crashed into a row of boxes near the grandstand. The accident happened just as Wilson was endeavoring to go from a racing automobile to an airplane by means of a rope ladder. The rope ladder thrown down to Wilson's "hare devil" airplane caught upon the exhaust pipe of the automobile and precipitated the airplane into the boxes. Panic seized the occupants of the boxes.

The presence of mind of Dallas M. Steers, of Chicago, pilot of the airplane, probably saved the lives of the spectators. By clever maneuvering he managed to land the airplane and averted it into the open field.

John H. Brown, the auto driver, was seriously injured. Wilson escaped with a few bruises.

REASON IN FRUITS LEFT ON LAWNS

Philadelphia, May 30.—The findings of two canines and an orange, into which there had been injected a strong solution of potassium, on lawns of West Chester residences has provided the authorities of Delaware county with a new mystery.

A piece of fruit contained sufficient of the deadly poison to kill several persons. It is believed that the fruit was intended for children and the authorities believe that it may have been placed on the lawns by the same persons who a short time ago scattered poisoned meat about, killing many dogs and cats in West Chester.

The parents of the children say they know of no enemies who might have tried to kill the children. The police are working on the theory that both the poisoned meat and the fruit were thrown into the yards by a lunatic who may have a fancied grievance against the families.

New York Girls Prefer Overalls For Work Dress

New York, May 30.—Factory girls who found comfort and utility in overalls and bloomers' costumes during the war are not going back to feminine drills a canvass of factory sections here indicates.

Factory girls in bloomers and overalls parade up and down Park avenue and other streets near the manufacturing districts in almost as large numbers as during the war. The girls say they would not think of going back to skirts for work wear. Of fifty girls questioned all but one declared that they had given up skirts as work garments or were in favor of doing so.

New York, May 30.—Charging that his exclusion from the floor of the B. F. Hart states in his complaint since last November, when he acted counter to the policy of the organization, he has been unable to carry on his business of booking vaudeville acts.

DANVILLE WOMAN CAN EAT ANYTHING

Mrs. Searles, After Taking Tanlac Enjoys Things She Had Not Touched in Years

"Since taking Tanlac I can eat anything I want for the first time in fifteen years without suffering afterwards," said Mrs. C. B. Searles, of 165 1-2 Stokes street, Danville. "I had become so weak from the effects of indigestion that I couldn't do my housework and seemed to be getting worse all the time. Nothing I ate agreed with me, and often for days at a time I couldn't retain a thing on my stomach. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep hardly at all, and at times I was so weak and dizzy I could hardly raise my head from my pillow."

"None of my family thought I would ever get over my trouble, but about this time one of my daughters began taking Tanlac, and when I saw how it helped her, I made up my mind to try it myself. My system was so badly out of order and I was so weak I couldn't tell Tanlac was helping me until after I started on my third bottle. But after that I got better right along. My appetite is now fine and everything agrees with me so well that my friends are simply astonished at my improvement. I sleep like a child and am always feeling fine. Tanlac is the greatest medicine in the world and I wouldn't think of being without it."

You can now buy epsom salts with out the awful taste and nausea, by asking your druggist for a handy package of "Epsomade Salts" which looks and acts exactly like epsom salts, because it is real epsom salts combined with fruit derivative salts giving it the taste of sparkling lemonade.

Take a tablespoonful in a glass of cold water whenever you feel bilious, headachy, or constipated. "Epsomade Salts" is the much talked of discovery of the American Epsom Association.

Memorial Day

I have a lover in the fields of France,
Where larks still sing and scarlet poppies wave.
There let him lie—I ask not his return
That my poor grief may tend a lonely grave.

There let him lie, among his comrades all,
In the world's common sepulchre and shrine;
The crusting-place of every nation's heart;
And let the common sorrow hallow mine.

But let me plant beside his resting-place,
Where fleur-de-lis and scarlet poppies nod,
A bit of beauty from his native land—
The yellow glory of our golden-rod.

There Belgium's bloom and Italy's fragrance blend;
There shamrock buds and purple heather grows;
There the fair lilies of the fields of France
Grow side by side with England's beautiful rose.

There, with the whispering maples and the pines,
With cypress black and fragrant laurel bloom,
The evening winds with gentle rapture blend
The breath of wattle and the southern broom.

O ask me not to take my love away—
We should be lonely for the fields of France.

Salvation Army

Report Will Be Made Wednesday On Funds Collected by Ladies' Committee

The moral and spiritual atmosphere in which the children of today are nurtured should be a matter of vital concern to every man and woman in America.

The importance of the question as to the ideals and teachings which the children of America assimilate has not been underestimated by the Salvation Army. A complete chain of links, riveted in the fondry of spiritual conviction and inspiration and cast in the mold of long and wide experience, is functioning under the direction of the Salvation Army, in over one thousand American cities today.

The chain, in Salvation Army parlance, is known as "The Cradle to the Crown." Each link coincides with the peculiar needs of the various stages of childhood and adolescence—the composite whole making the Salvation Army junior corps.

The Sand Tray (company meeting) classes, the Band of Love classes, where various elementary subjects are taught; the Young People's Legion, where young men and women are taught technical subjects; the Young People's Singing Brigades and Bands, the corps cadet classes for instruction in Scripture history and Salvation Army organization, work each plays an important part in holding the interest of the young people and the inspiration of pure and lofty ideals.

In hundreds of thousands of homes in America, the name of Christ is never heard. The Bible is an unknown book and prayer is an unknown quantity. This is where the seeds of immorality, anarchy and bolshevism find fertile ground. The following incident which recently took place is but illustrative of an unfortunate condition prevailing in every American community.

Our officer called at a home where are six children in the family, ranging from two to fourteen years. Not one of them is past the first grade in school.

The Salvation Army always subordinates its material assistance to the more important one of moral and spiritual help, hence the captain suggested having prayer before leaving the home. Permission being granted to have the prayer, the officer tactfully assisted the little folks into the attitude of prayer, not without a great deal of curiosity and amazement to the children, but when he had finished his simple supplication, the naturally bright boy of fourteen, said, "Well, this is the first time I did that, but I like it!"

The Salvation Army serves to protect and instruct our childhood.

Local conditions and local needs receive specific treatment adapted to those distinctive circumstances. The Girl Guards and Boy Guards are two institutions which admirably serve the highest interest of the physical and spiritual well being of the adolescent.

Camping, hiking, manual training and religious instruction are part and parcel of the program covered by the Guards, all contributing to the consummation of the great spiritual idea of the Salvation Army.

The ladies' committee of the local ward will meet Wednesday morning, June 1, at 10 o'clock at the chamber of commerce, to give a report of the funds they have collected during the past week.

Woman Prefers Washub in U. S.

To Large Fortune in Sweden

Philadelphia, May 30.—"I would rather be a washerwoman in the United States than an heiress in Sweden." So declared Mrs. Jennie Hendrickson, of Waterville, Pa., just beyond the city limits.

"I could not think of going back to the old country," she declared, "after having lived in the good old United States. I know I would die of homesickness."

Word came to Mrs. Hendrickson a short time ago that two grand-uncles had died in Sweden, leaving her a share in a large fortune, which according to some reports, amounted to nearly $2,000,000. Mrs. Hendrickson, with other relatives in this country, who would be beneficiaries of the estate, engaged a lawyer to go to Sweden to look after their interest. But the lawyer came back with the news that there would be no money for the heirs so long as they remained in this country.

Gas Buggies—The fable of the good resolution

By Bee

Richmond—The new $1,000,000 home of Alex. Temple, Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, when completed will be one of the most magnificent buildings in the South. It will include an auditorium seating nearly 1,000 people, with a stage which is said to be the largest south of New York. In the basement will be a banquet hall with a seating capacity of 1,000 persons.

Manassas—A small rough stone, of ordinary appearance and less than a foot in diameter, is all that remains of a marble memorial three feet high erected sixty years ago on the Bull Run battlefield in honor of General Borkow who, with General Bee, lost his life in the first battle here during the war between the states. Mrs. W. W. Mackall, of Savannah, Ga., and "The Lawn," near Greenwiche, has presented it to Manassas Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, and it is to be erected again above its flat concrete base, which has remained undisturbed, on the battle-ground for 60 years. Charlottesville—The educational world will join with the University of Virginia Tuesday in celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of her foundation.

England, France, Belgium, Switzerland, Spain, China, Chile, Scotland, Canada and Norway—ten countries in all—will send representatives to take part in the four day exercises. Delegates from all the leading universities and educational institutions in America will be present.

"The tobacco going to have its scalp added to the belt of the prohibitionists beside that of the infamous but as yet not altogether late alcohol," is the question asked by Garret Smith in an article in the current issue of Leslie's Magazine.

The writer reaches the conclusion that while there has been increased agitation and legislative activity on the subject of tobacco following the success of the drive for prohibition of liquor the efforts of reformers seeking to abolish tobacco have no general support. "This opinion is based on the results of the questionnaire on the subject sent out to newspaper editors of the country by the Press Service Company of New York City.

The questions asked were:
(1) Do you favor the enactment of laws prohibiting the personal use of tobacco by adults?
(2) In your judgment does the general sentiment of your community favor such legislation?
(3) Is the use of tobacco personally objectionable to you?

No answers accompanied the questionnaires from their form it was impossible for any editor to determine the attitude of the questioners. Out of 7,847 editors questioned, 7,393 replied according to the summary sheet. Of these editors it is estimated, approximately a combined population of 21,770,000. Of the 7,347 editors replying, 7,393, or 95 per cent, represent public sentiment in their communities as opposed to anti-tobacco legislation. Only 200 editors, or 3 per cent, of those replying believed there was any considerable sentiment favorable to tobacco prohibition. There were 174, 23 per cent, in doubt, while 20 failed to record their judgment.

Editors' Judgment Unbiased

It is of special interest to note that 500 editors in answering the question, personally favored such legislation, although only 200 of them reported that public opinion also favored the prohibition of tobacco—an indication of the conscientious effort made by the editors to distinguish public opinion from their own personal opinions. The article continues:

"The highest percentage of replies reporting public opinion favorable to prohibition of tobacco came from Utah, where 42 per cent of the editors thought the public were for such a movement. Utah is the only state which has since adopted an anti-cigarette law. The result was forecast by several of the editors who stated that the influence of the Mormon Church was against tobacco. The Mormon Church is also strong in Idaho, which is the other state where the use of tobacco was recently prohibited. In the states in which the prohibition legislation is repealed, in this state 50 per cent of the editors reported sentiment in their communities against tobacco prohibition, which, nevertheless, is 9 per cent below the average reported opposition. In the 21st Legislature of Tennessee some twenty anti-passed and the governor has signed a bill repealing the anti-cigarette law of that state. The questionnaire showed 98 per cent of its editors believed the public against anti-tobacco legislation. The legislature of Arkansas has also passed a bill repealing its anti-cigarette law. In this state 94 per cent of the editors reported against tobacco prohibition."

Arizona's Practical Joke

"A bill, introduced in the current session of the legislature of Arizona to prohibit smoking in public dining rooms and other public places, was first amended to prohibit the consumption of tobacco in public places, chewing gum, tea and coffee and then defeated by the senate. The questionnaire returns from that state were 92 per cent 'no'."

"In Iowa where the 'no's' were 95 per cent a bill to repeal the anti-cigarette law has been passed and signed by the governor."

"A bill to repeal the anti-cigarette law in Kansas, with 89 per cent 'no's,' is receiving the attention of its legislature. Last year a petition for a referendum in Oregon to prohibit the use of tobacco failed of sufficient signatures to bring the question to a vote, and 95 per cent of the editors declare their public against legislation. In Oklahoma an anti-cigarette bill has been reported unfavorably in the house. The editors of that state reported 94 per cent against its public support."

"Outside of Utah, where Mormon influence predominates," the article concludes, "the anti-tobacco movement appears, as in the case of Tennessee, Arkansas and Iowa, to be losing ground and is not to any considerable extent supported by the people."

"The friends of tobacco and particularly elite circles showing less much as 1920-21 was a maximum year in tobacco prices with 44-45 per cent increase in the tobacco subject received an unusual amount of consideration."
